PHYSICAL TRAINING TALKS.
Meeting of the Association for its Advancement Ends.

The tenth annual meeting of the American Association for the Advancement of Physical Education, which has been in session at the Teachers' College, at 120th street and Morning-side Heights, since Thursday, ended yesterday. The last session began at 9:30 A. M. with a paper on the practical methods of teaching exercises to public school children by Dr. J. Gardner Smith, director of physical education in the New York public schools.

The first requirement for proper physical education, Dr. Smith said, is a careful physical examination of each pupil to govern and regulate the proper classification. After hygiene should be taught, with a view to teaching the pupils the proper manner of sitting, standing, and walking. Every city should have a director of physical education, and in each school a physical education teacher.

Dr. Smith said that the training to be effective, should consist of class room and gymnasium exercises, and to instruct the pupils in the proper manner of sitting, standing, and walking. Every city should have a director of physical education, and in each school a physical education teacher.

IN THE DIVORCE COURTS.
Husbands and Wives Legally Freed from the Marriage Tie.
Frank L. Slack has obtained a decree of absolute divorce against his wife, Ida D. Slack, Judge Gildersleeve of the Superior Court. They were married at Pawtucket in 1883. The main witness for the plaintiff at the long trial was Caroline A. Day, who admitted going to the house 19 West Eighth street to lodge in order to get evidence against Mrs. Slack. Mrs. Day is the wife of Oswald Day, notwithstanding that he has brought four actions for divorce against her and a fifth is pending, in which Day, who is the Captain of a tugboat, charges her with intimacy with Slack. Mrs. Day told of a visit with Edward C. Fuller, a Jeweller of Attleboro, Mass., made on Mrs. Slack at the house and Mrs. Slack testified that Mrs. Day had pled her with liquor and had rifled her trunk of jewelry which were used in the case. Mrs. Slack has a cork foot.

Anna V. Jump has obtained from Justice Foster of the Supreme Court an absolute divorce from John Thompson Rice Jump, an accountant. Jump was sent to the Elmira Reformatory for a year and he will be released until next October. The couple were married in 1890. On the question of alimony prior to his commitment, but of what he is entitled to receive, the judge has given the court his opinion. The decree was granted after a hearing on the evidence, and provided that neither party should be made to pay any money for four months after Jump's release from the reformatory.

Justice Tamm of the Supreme Court has given William A. H. Perry an absolute divorce from his wife, Mary M. whom he married in 1889. They were separated in 1890. It was shown that she had lived at 224 South First street, Brooklyn, with James Foster.

Justice Cullen, in the Brooklyn Supreme Court, yesterday granted an absolute divorce to George L. Thatcher from Alice E. Thatcher.

NEW POST OFFICE ARRANGEMENTS.
Contractors Hereafter to Be Responsible for Mails Carried by Contractors.
On and after May 1 employees of the Post Office will no longer take charge of the mails which are being carried on the elevated roads. By the present arrangement the contractors, G. Travers and J. H. Alward, convey the mails from the General Post Office to the elevated stations. Here they are delivered to employees of the Post Office, who take charge of them until they arrive at the station nearest the branch office to which they are consigned. The contractors' wagons convey them from the stations to the branch Post Offices. The contractor is not responsible for the mails while in the train, but responsibility ending when he has delivered them to the Post Office.

Under the new regulations the contractors will be required to supply men to take charge of the mails on the trains, and will be responsible for them from the time they are handed over to the General Post Office until they are delivered at the branch office.

The Superintendent of Mails will continue to supervise the whole matter of transmission and delivery, and to keep the contractors under surveillance. The employees who have hitherto looked after the mails on the elevated road are all men who have passed a civil service examination. It is expected that places will be found for them in the Post Office.

Mr. Travers says that the men whom he will employ to take charge of the mails will be paid at the rate of $3 a week, and they will work about four hours a day.

Fixed for Being Drunk in Court.
When former Policeman John R. Krushinsky of 700 East 105th street, who was recently dismissed from the force for civil service fraud, appeared in the Morrisania Police Court yesterday to answer to the charge of assaulting his wife, he was so intoxicated that Justice Martin adjourned the case and, turning to the clerk, said: "I charge this man with intoxication in this court."
When the papers were read out the Justice asked Krushinsky what he had to say.
"I deny it," Krushinsky replied.
"You are here before me in this condition again I will commit you to the island. It is not such a long time as you are in the diocese upon the police force. You have no brains."
Krushinsky did not venture a reply, but took a roll of bills from his pocket and paid his fine.

Suicide of an Invalid.
Harry G. Cantrell, Jr., of 2028 Vanderbilt avenue, ended an illness of three months' duration yesterday morning by committing suicide. He was 21 years old and lived with his parents. He was employed by a real estate dealer in East 177th street. Three months ago the young man was stricken with a nervous disorder, and he had been unable to work except for a few days at long intervals. Yesterday morning he did not appear at the breakfast table and his mother went to his room to call him. The room was empty. He was found lying on the floor of his employer's barn with a handkerchief saturated with chloroform pressed to his face. He was dead.

Limits of the New West Broadway.
The Board of Aldermen held a special meeting yesterday to amend the resolution recently adopted for changing the names of College place and South Fifth avenue to West Broadway. Some Greenwich street merchants discovered that the resolution had been so worded as to include unintentionally two blocks of Greenwich street, from Dry to Vesey. Under the amended resolution the new West Broadway will run from Vesey street to Washington square south.

Said to Have Injured His Wife.
Michael Dooley, a machinist, of 61 Walton street, Williamsburgh, was assigned in the Lee Avenue Police Court yesterday on the charge of throwing his wife, Rosanna, down a flight of stairs two weeks ago. The woman is in a critical condition in the Flushing Hospital. Dooley, on the day of the trouble, upbraided her for her dissipated habits and threatened to leave her. She threw a chair at him, and Dooley pushed her into the hall. He says she fell down the stairs.
